REPORTS OF DESPERATE CONDITIONS

In Yaqui Valley Where Americans Are Surrounded By Indians

BUT NO NEW ATTACKS HAVE YET BEEN MADE

CARRANZA'S OCCUPATION

Of Mexico City, Has Been Reported But Not Confirmed In Dispatches to the State Department—President Wilson Denies He Sent for Villa's Chief Lieutenant.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, June 22.—Conditions in the Yaqui Valley where the United States is prepared to land forces to protect the settlers against raiding Indians are described as desperate. One settler who left the valley on the last train and arrived at Nogales yesterday said half the valley had been devastated without protest from the forty Villa troops who were the only soldiers in the region.

One ranch has been surrounded for four days by 500 mounted Indians and 300 on foot. The settlers were prepared to defend themselves from an attack until American marines should arrive.

More recent advices from American officials and others near the valley, it was said, had not reported any new attacks on foreigners.

Confirmation of a report that General Gonzales had begun the occupation of Mexico City with Carranza forces was lacking but a message from consul Silliman at Vera Cruz, said communication with the capital had been severed. The wires were cut beyond Otumba about 25 miles from Mexico City, he said, presumably by Zapata raiders. Officials thought it possible that it might mean the Zapata troops and withdrawn from the capital and that a raiding force might be operating between General Gonzales and Vera Cruz. Mr. Silliman did not report what Carranza officials thought of the situation.

Reports from Monclova said, 8,000 destitute Mexicans there were being fed daily by American Red Cross agents.

Eye-witnesses arriving at Eagle Pass, Texas from Saltillo said there was desperate need of relief there. President Wilson said today he had no official knowledge that General Felipe Angeles, Villa's chief lieutenant, was coming to Washington. It had been reported on the border that Angeles had been sent for by American officials, while another report was that he was coming of his own initiative to outline plans for pacifying Mexico.

Officials Expect Soon To Apprehend Convict Guilty Of Murdering Warden's Wife

(Associated Press Telegram)

Joliet, Ill., June 22.—Officials of the penitentiary here expect that the name of the convict who murdered the wife of warden Allen, Sunday night will be known today. Deputy Warden Lawrence Ryan said he would be surprised if the information were not at hand soon.

"Chicken Joe" Campbell, the negro trusty who has been the principal suspect in the case gave the information on which the prediction was based.

"For two hours we gave Campbell the third degree," said Ryan and he told us enough to center suspicion on one man. I will be surprised if a sensation does not develop within a few hours."

The inquest was resumed at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Allen will be buried this afternoon.

Campbell had been forced to stand upright in a solitary cell, without food, water or sleep since Sunday morning when the burned body of Mrs. Allen was found on a bed in the warden's apartments. The negro, who had been sentenced from Chicago for killing a member of his own race, was believed by officials to have been the last person to have seen Mrs. Allen alive. Campbell had been detailed as a servant in Allen's apartment.

A blood stained collar, found in the ruins of Mrs. Allen's bedroom, was admitted by Campbell to belong to him. He asserted, however, that he had not got the blood on the collar while shaving a week ago.

RAILROAD SPENT $150,000 TO AFFECT OHIO LEGISLATURE.

(Associated Press Telegram.) Columbus, June 22.—Railroads spent about $150,000 for and against legislation affecting their interests during the recent session of the legislature according to reports filed with the secretary of state under the corrupt practices act today. Half of that amount was spent in behalf of the bill to permit increase of the inter-state passenger rate from 2 to 2 1/2 cents a mile.

George S. Strong, Columbus attorney, received $3,300 for counsel fees. D. C. Pemberton, of Wilmington received $1,100 for representing railroads at the state house.

MANSFIELD IS ENTERTAINING OLD SOLDIERS

ANNUAL REUNION OF DEPARTMENT OF OHIO IS DRAWING MANY VISITORS

Governor Willis on Today's Program—Sunday School Workers Meet At Zanesville.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Mansfield, O., June 22.—Around many "campfires" veterans of the war between the sections gathered last night and recounted the stirring times of '61-'65, the victories and the defeats in which Ohio soldiers participated in the conflict of more than a half century ago.

This was the second day of the annual reunion of the G. A. R., Ohio department. Ideal weather prevailed, contributing its part to the comfort of the guests of honor. The attendance today was much larger than that of yesterday, the presence of Governor Frank B. Willis in the roll of principal orator of the day, being one of the drawing cards.

General J. Kent Hamilton of Toledo, state commander, headed a delegation of G. A. R. officials who welcomed David J. Palmers, national commander-in-chief, upon his arrival from his home in Des Moines. A half score of bands as well as drum corps from the Sons of Veterans and other organizations assisted in welcoming arriving notables, and incoming delegations of veterans.

Prominent Politicians of Indiana Of Three Parties Are Indicted By Grand Jury for Election Frauds

(Associated Press Telegram)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 22.—An indictment charging election conspiracy, was returned against more than 100 persons, including several high in party councils by the Marion county grand jury here today. The charges are based on the election of November 3, 1911, the registration of last September and October, and the primary of May 3, 1911.

Thomas Taggart, Democratic national committeeman for Indiana, Major Joseph E. Bell, Chief of Police Samuel Parrott, Frederick Barrett, city attorney, and Democratic county chairman; Robert Metzger, former chief of police and Republican member of the board of safety and Frank P. Barker, former county prosecutor, are among the more prominent of the men indicted.

All the Democrats, Republicans and progressives—are named in a single indictment—which contains forty-eight counts and covers 175 typewritten pages. The main charges are conspiracy to commit felonies by corrupting the election, by violation of the primary law, and the registration laws, by bribery and black mail.

Included among those indicted are said to be mentioned a number of primary, registration and election officials. The indictment charges certain of the officials with conspiring to permit persons to register falsely and to vote falsely in the primary and in the election. Another count charges persons with recounting.

Other counts allege that certain primary and election boards permitted the destruction of ballots for the people substituting them with others.

Two counts set up a conspiracy to aid and abet primary poll clerks in marking ballots in a manner different from that requested by the voter, while other counts alleged the use of money in influencing the electors both at the primary and in the general elections.

Members of Mayor Bell's official family, former city officials, policemen, ward leaders and primary and election officials are among those indicted. The more prominent are the following:

Herman Adam, City Sealer of Weights and Measures.

Dennis Bush, street commissioner.

Edward Lyons, Democratic candidate for county treasurer.

Dr. John W. Sluss, Republican and former superintendent of the city hospital.

Donn M. Roberts, former mayor of Terre Haute, who was convicted in the election fraud trial in federal court here recently.

Charles Coval, formerly Mayor Bell's secretary.

Jacob H. Milken, city building inspector.

Oscar Merrill, police lieutenant.

Patrick J. Roche, city detective.

Michael Glenn, city detective.

Roberts connection with Indianapolis politics was touched upon during the trial in the federal court when he was convicted and sentenced to six years in the federal prison. Several witnesses mentioned the alleged fact that Roberts had sent repeaters to Indianapolis from Terre Haute to work during the election and two Indianapolis men testified to going from this city to Terre Haute to work in the election there.

Taggart was first of the indicted men to appear at the sheriff's office to acknowledge service in the case.

In all 128 men were named in the indictments which is said to be possibly the largest number of men ever indicted in a single bill. It is two more than were named by the federal grand jury here after its investigation of the Terre Haute election conspiracy. In that case 126 were named and all were either convicted by a jury or pleaded guilty.

Among the others indicted were the following:

James Rosford, superintendent of the street cleaning.

William Clauer, clerk of the board of safety.

James Haggerty, custodian city hall.

Nelson Hyde, former member of the board of safety.

William Kissell, city mule contractor.

James A. Lucas, assistant bailiff city police court.

Maurice Murphy, police sergeant.

William McConnell, city veterinarian.

Roy A. Pope, city detective.

Wayland E. Sanders, city detective.

John P. Sheehan, city patrolman.

John J. Sullivan, city patrolman.

William T. Brown, clerk of the board of commissioners.

John M. Dunn, assistant custodian courthouse.

Allen Garnett, city hall messenger.

Lawrence Hartsell, bicycle policeman.

Irving Hardy, city patrolman.

Morton Hulse, city police sergeant.

Michael Hines, city patrolman.

Lack of Munitions Gravest Need of the Allies In Every Theatre of War at Present

London, June 22.—David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, who has returned from a week end visit to Boulogne where he consulted Albert Thomas, French under secretary of war on the munitions question, is forming committee in London as well as in all manufacturing towns to take advantage of every possibility for increasing the production of munitions which is the gravest problem confronting the allies in all theatres of war.

The Times this morning prints a despatch from its correspondent in Eastern France who asserts that if the French troops are to drive their offensive in overwhelming force they must use a tremendously increased bulk of ammunition. The same lesson comes from England from the Wever front, he points out, while the retreat of the Russian armies in Galicia hammers it home again.

The correspondent says the daily output of shells certainly is much larger than it was four months ago, and that it is possible that a reserve of ammunition is being built up much more rapidly than is apparent at the front, but adds, "what we have come to is the redemption of the world by shells."

Georgia's Governor Menaced By Angry Crowd Which State Militia Promptly Disperses; Is Now Quiet

(Associated Press Telegram)

Atlanta, Ga., June 22.—While the militia still was on guard at Governor Slaton's country home, quiet prevailed both there and in the city today, and there was no indication of a repetition of the exciting scenes of yesterday and last night which followed announcement of the commutation of Leo M. Frank's death sentence.

In the city the near-panic saloons, closed by the authorities yesterday, were allowed to reopen this morning and there were no crowds on the streets.

At the governor's home it was stated that the militia probably would be withdrawn tonight.

Officials of the state and city insisted that last night's demonstration probably had ended the possibility of any menace to the governor by the people, most bitterly opposed to the commutation of Frank's sentence.

A state of preparedness was maintained today, however, both by the police and the military authorities.

The soldiers stationed at Governor Slaton's suburban home attracted attention from passers-by today, but the time hung heavily on their hands for there appeared no further evidence of a gathering of a crowd in that vicinity.

The Frank case still was discussed on the streets today, but the groups were those ordinarily seen on busy street corners. The calm of today was in striking contrast to the tension of yesterday and it apparently was welcomed by the majority of Atlanta residents. The local newspapers gave very little space to the case today. A summary of the arrests made yesterday in the city and last night in the neighborhood of the Slaton home, showed a total of twenty-four persons taken into custody. They were mostly young men, some without occupation, while some said they were clerks. All were held on a charge of failing to "move on" when directed by the police to do so. None of the trials had been held up to noon today. So far as could be learned no arrangement has been made for an organized protest against the governor's action.

The impromptu mass meeting at the capital yesterday when resolutions were passed condemning Governor Slaton, seemed to appease the wrath of those immediately concerned. The rush on Governor Slaton's home last night followed a number of street-corner demonstrations.

The governor's "mansion" provided by the state is an ancient dwelling in the heart of the city. Governor Slaton, being a resident of Atlanta, has not occupied the old house, preferring his own beautiful estate, some four or five miles from the city. The distance did not deter the demonstrators last night once they had determined to "make the call."

At three different points on the "march out" Peachtree street and along Peachtree road, city and country police made an effort to halt the procession.

The size of the crowd was such, however, as to overawe the small police detachment and it was then that the governor declared martial law within a zone of one-half mile of his home, and called out several companies of militia. The citizen soldiers arrived at his home by special trolley cars and in automobiles.

No effort was made by anyone to enter the governor's grounds. Barbed wire entanglements had been

WEATHER FORECASTS TO BE DISTRIBUTED INLAND BY WIRELESS.

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, June 22.—Inland distribution of weather forecasts by wireless is the latest experiment to be undertaken by the weather bureau. The plan contemplates the sending of the forecasts for Illinois from the wireless station at Joliet between 12:45 p. m. and 1 p. m. to other radio points within a radius of 125 miles. The messages will be transmitted at a speed slow enough to accommodate amateur wireless operators. Possibility of utilization of the wireless for an extension of the forecast distribution prompted the chief of the weather bureau in sanctioning the experiment.

SURGERY IS SUBJECT TO MANY EVILS

NEW PRESIDENT OF AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION WARNS MEMBERS OF THESE

Many For Profit, Take Human Life Into Their Hands Who Have No Equipment So To Do.

(Associated Press Telegram)

San Francisco, June 22.—Dr. W. L. Rodman, of Philadelphia, the newly elected President of The American Medical Association, who delivered his inaugural address at today's session of the annual meeting of the Association, introduced his address with reference to some of the evils in the surgical profession.

"In every community," he said, "men are operating who have no right to take human life into their hands. This does not apply to the general practitioner, who, in an emergency, and to the best of his ability, operates in an attempt to save life, but to those who, for gain, undertake that which should be done only by the skillful surgeon."

Surgery is a special science, extra hazardous in its nature, and hence the public has a right to demand of the surgeon the very highest physical, mental, and moral equipment. In the eradication of this evil of the incompetent surgeon, Dr. Rodman said that the American College of Surgeons, which was organized only two years ago, was to be heartily congratulated upon the progress made.

"The positive stand the college has taken on fee-splitting alone more than justifies its existence," he said, "this evil has become intolerable, and a wave of protest is rising throughout the land which should, and we believe will, overwhelm the offenders."

"Let us at once apply the axe to the root, make this nefarious practice impossible, and drive from the surgical temple those who defile it." Referring to the efforts which the Association had made in the elimination of patent medicine frauds, Dr. Rodman said the fight had involved legal proceedings which the Association was combating vigorously, but that it was interesting to note that concerns with new preparations for the market were coming to the Association.

LEMBERG IS NOW DOOMED APPARENTLY

Nothing but Sudden and Unexpected Movement Of Duke Nicholas

CAN NOW SAVE THE CAPITAL OF GALICIA

RUSSIAN ARMIES INTACT

But Have Retreated Before Irresistible Force of Austro-German Drive to Outskirts of City—Great Masses of Men Will Be Available to Teutons for Use Elsewhere.

(Associated Press Telegram)

London, June 22.—Nothing but a sudden and unexpected blow by Grand Duke Nicholas, commander in chief of the forces in the field can now save Lemberg, the capital of Galicia, in the hands of the Russians for nearly 10 months, from returning to the possession of its former owners, and the almost immediate evacuation of the city by the Russians is expected in London.

After yielding on the Crodek lines the Russian armies retired to virtually the outskirts of the city of Lemberg itself. The Austrian official announcement on hostilities speaks of the Russians as attacking at many points, but these fights are assumed in London to be mostly incidents of the rear guard actions to enable the main forces to withdraw.

In the opinion of British observers this retirement has been up to the present time, a well executed movement. Dispatches reaching London say the armies of Emperor Nicholas are virtually intact and that their ability to resume the initiative once their ranks have been refilled and their ammunition replenished has not been greatly impaired.

This interval, however, it is argued here, will give the German allies opportunity to reap the fruits of the victories in Galicia. They will be able to withstand assaults from the east with much smaller forces than were required successfully to attack, and large masses of men will be released. Whether they are to be against the Russians further to the north or against the British and French in the western arena of the war is a secret of German headquarters, although the successes of the allies—separately small but accumulatively important—in Alsace and in Lorraine, in the Vosges along the Meuse, in the Argonne and to the north of Arras suggest that a considerable access of German strength may be a development of the near future in this field, while released Austrian forces will be used to stem the advance of the Italians. On the other hand the Germans in North Russia and Poland seem to be briskly consolidating their forces, which

Sensational Reports of Reason For Governor Willis Cancellation His Proposed Trip to Exposition

(Associated Press Telegram)

Columbus, June 22.—Reports of a sensational nature purporting to give reasons for Governor Willis having cancelled his trip to California yesterday caused an atmosphere of suppressed excitement in political circles here today, but were denied categorically by Forest F. Tipton, private secretary to the governor.

The governor went to Mansfield at noon to address an encampment of the G. A. R., accompanied by Adjutant General Hough, without making any further explanation of why he had decided to cancel or at least postpone until September the western tour.

"There are a half dozen things which required the governor's attention at this time," said Secretary Tipton.

The question of the resignation of Charles H. Bryson, member of the civil service commission, who has defied the governor to oust him by filing charges, was declared to be "still in the air," at the governor's office. It was said there that Mr. Bryson was considering resignation on condition the governor make a public statement clearing Bryson of any possible threat of charges.

It was reported also that Mr. Bryson had named as a condition of his quitting that certain persons not be appointed as his successor either on the present commission or the new bi-partisan board of two members. Assurances were given at the governor's office that Mr. Bryson's resignation must be unconditional or it would not be accepted.

Another report that a break had occurred between the governor's relationship with Newton M. Miller, commissioner in charge of Ohio's exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition was denied emphatically by Secretary Tipton.

It was admitted, however, that a difficult situation had developed in connection with the state hog cholera serum plant at Reynoldsburg, which the governor discussed with State Veterinarian Paul Fischer, yesterday. Dr. Fischer will leave the state service soon and take up the manufacture of cholera serum at his private plant, also near Reynoldsburg. It is said the supply of serum at the state plant is far less than will be needed during the next few months.

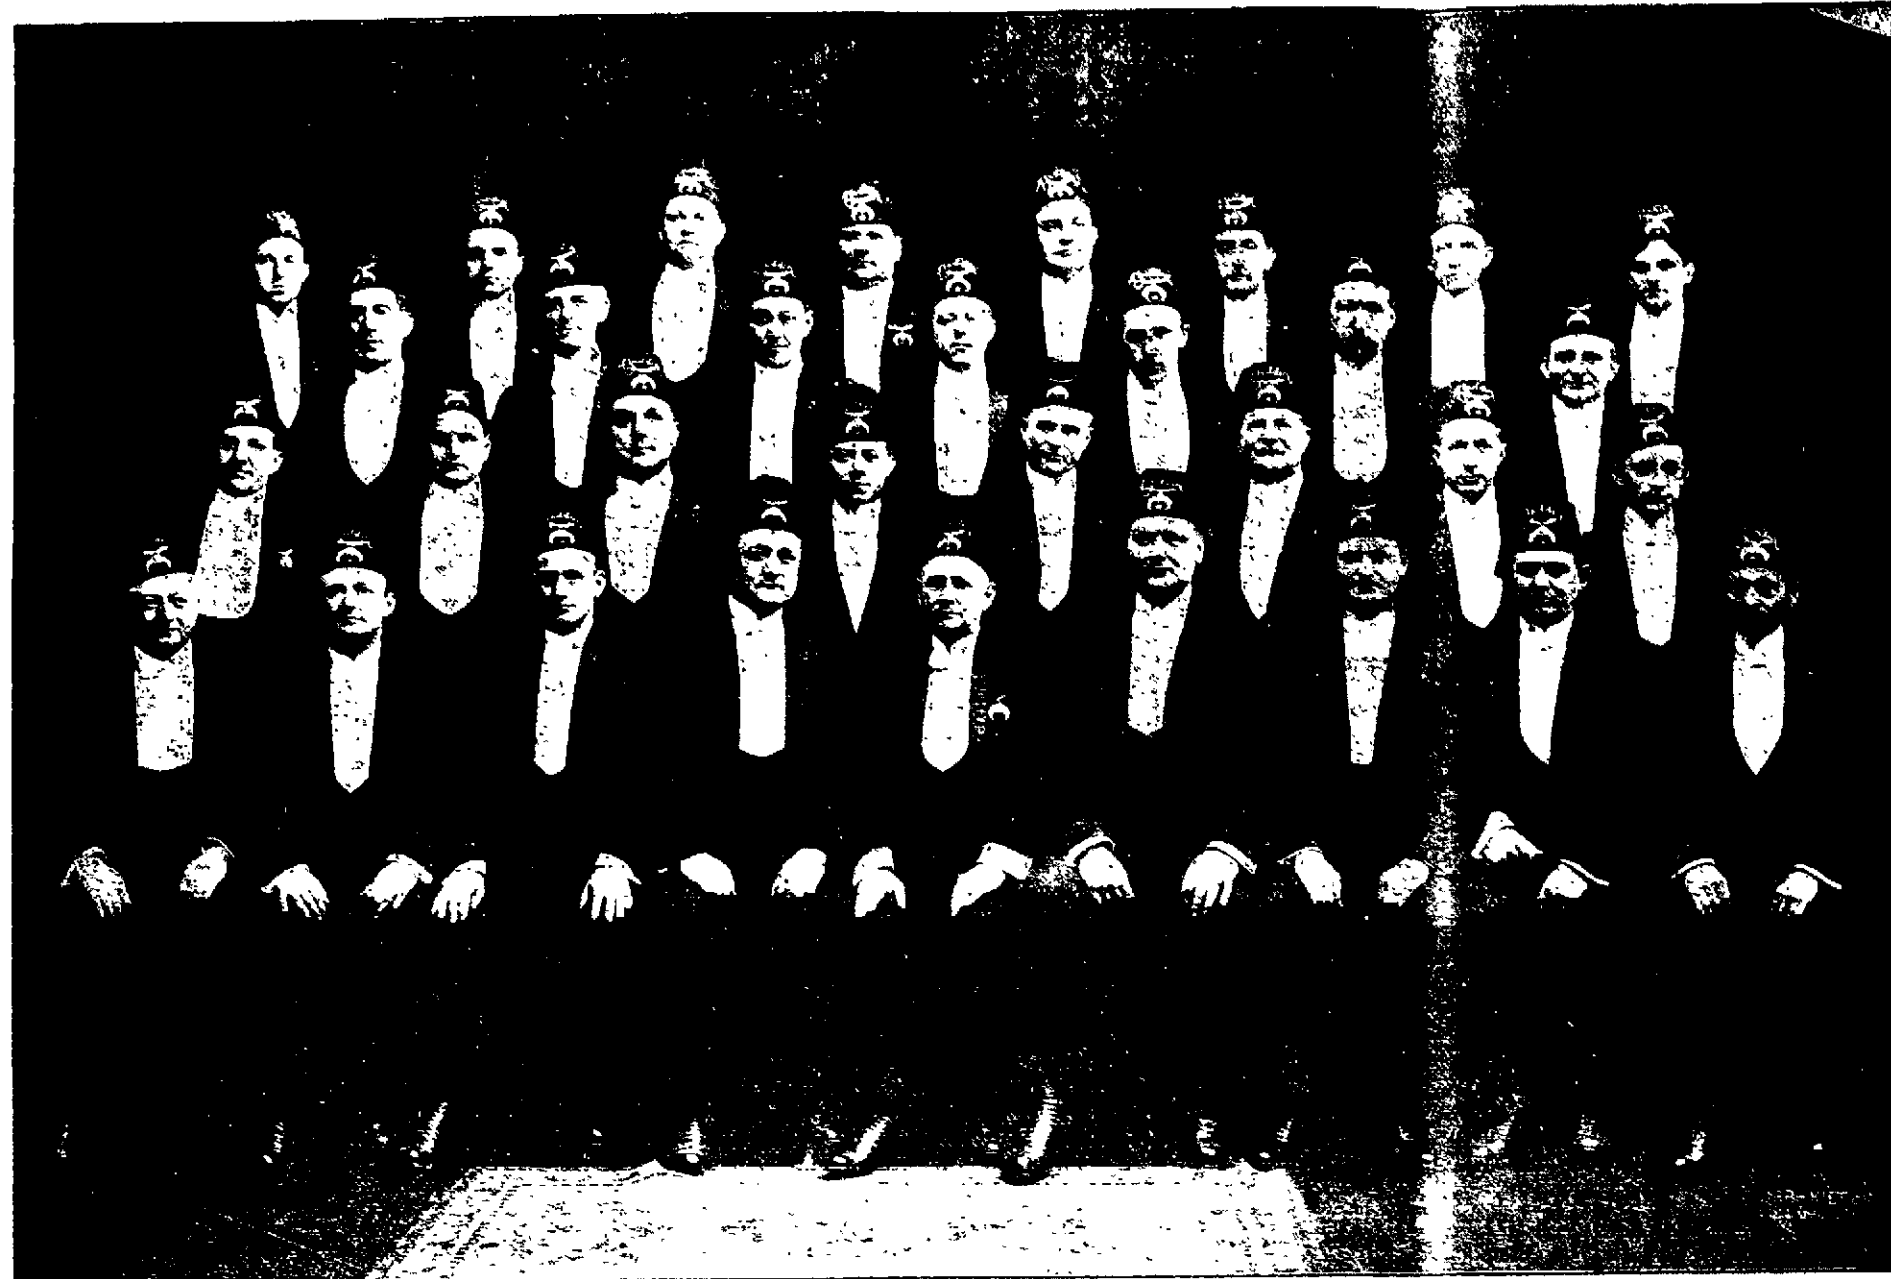

The executive offices also entered denial of report that serious trouble had arisen within the liquor licensing board.

"There is nothing serious in that connection," said Secretary Tipton.

"The resignation of the three board members is still being discussed."

An incident of the cancellation of the western trip was the flurry in Adjutant General Hough's office today. Assistants were set to work unpacking a travelling trunk which General Hough had packed in anticipation of the trip and placing a few articles of clothing in a suit, one of which was taken to Mansfield,

WITH WITNESSES CHARGED AGAINST FIRM OF NEW YORK LAWYERS

Who Figured in $50,000 Breach of Promise Suit Brought by Miss Rae Tanzer.

(Associated Press Telegram)

New York, June 22.—The trial of David and Maxwell Slade, counsel for Miss Rae Tanzer in her $50,000 breach of promise suit against James W. Osborne, was on the calendar today in the United States district court, but as Martin W. Littlejohn, counsel for the Slades, was engaged in another case it was possible that the trial would not begin before tomorrow.

The Slades were charged with attempting to obstruct justice by tampering with the witnesses in the Tanzer-Osborne suit and with having arranged the preparation of a false and misleading photograph.

It was expected that the trial would solve the mystery of Oliver Osborne who came forward after Miss Tanzer began her suit and declared that Miss Tanzer had mistaken him for James W. Osborne. Soon after Oliver Osborne disappeared. The Slades have subpoenaed as a witness Carl Chandler, of the United States custom service, it was reported in an effort to show that he impersonated Oliver Osborne.

Italians Repulse Every Attempt—Official Report Issued at Rome, Contains No Startling News.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Rome, Via Paris, June 22.—The following official statement was issued tonight at the headquarters of the general staff of the Italian army:

"There is nothing to report on the Tyrol Trentino frontier except small engagements between reconnoitering parties in the San Pellegino valley, where we occupied ponte Taseca, and the Upper Cordevole valley. Reconnoissances disclosed the existence at several points of strongly entrenched lines protected by steel cables and some times concreted.

"In Carnia we continued our fire against Malborghetto notwithstanding the difficulties caused by cloudy weather. During the night of the 20th and 21st, the Austrians renewed as usual their vain attacks on Frickholt.

"In the eastern zone of Monte Nero, operations started on the 19th were carried to a successful conclusion on the 20th notwithstanding the difficulties of the ground, increased inclement weather and the enemy's resistance supported by the fire of his heavy artillery.

"Along the Isonzo front we noticed frequent night alarms in the enemy's entrenchments, revealed by prolonged bursts of musket and artillery fire which our troops refrained from answering. By repeated and persistent night attacks against the positions occupied by us on the left bank of the Isonzo at Plava the enemy is trying to throw us back on the right bank, the efforts break, however, against the stubborn resistance of our troops."

But this morning scrub women in the Rockefeller building declined to accept the new terms and those employed in all other large downtown buildings were again called out.

NO PERMITS FROM CITY FOR USE OF "OLD CEMETERY"

Indications are that the city will issue no more permits for use of the old cemetery tract between Main and Church streets, at Sixth, solicitor Nerpell, in a court statement to council, Monday night, in which he reported the decision of the supreme court which gave the city title to the tract, he said that the court's decision held that the city could retain control of the property so long as it was not put to any use inconsistent with the purposes for which the original grant was made. This part of the decision was interpreted to mean that the tract could be improved and beautified, and that its use for carnivals, lawn parties or other such entertainments would be contrary with its use as a cemetery.

It is also probable that the local chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will now carry out the plans formed several years ago to erect a tablet to the memory of Eldest Steele, a Revolutionary war hero. Mr. Steele is the great-grandfather of Miss Mary Van Buren of West Church street, and of Cyrus Nevins of South Third street.

WOMAN SAID TO HAVE TRIED TO COMMIT SUICIDE

The eight years old son of Mrs. Becker saw his mother and called for help and she was rescued by her husband. She was removed to her home where she is resting comfortably today.

New York, June 22.—The first move in the final attempt to save Charles Becker from execution for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, was made today. Martin T. Manton, Becker's chief counsel, went to Albany to discuss with Governor Whitman Becker's proposed appeal for executive clemency. It was understood that Mr. Manton intended to ask the governor to set the date for the hearing and possibly to ask Mr. Whitman to allow Lieutenant Governor Edward Schoenbeck, of Syracuse to decide whether Becker's plea should be granted.

It was reported also, that the governor would be asked to grant a reprieve to Becker in the hope that before it expired an amendment to the state constitution would abolish capital punishment.

The conference between the governor and Mr. Manton was set for four o'clock.

M'CLOSKEY IS TOO MUCH FOR WRATTEN MEN

FIVE HITS, THREE SCRATCHES, ALL THAT HE ALLOWED NEWARK ON MONDAY.

Daugherty Had Trouble Getting Started—After Fifth He Allowed No More Bingles.

It took Pitcher Daugherty just five innings to get warmed up Monday, and during the warming up process Findlay scored five runs, ample to win the game, as McCloskey, pitching for Chapman's crowd, shut out the local club with five hits, only two of which were anyways near clean cut.

The game was interesting after Daugherty settled down and he did some fancy work in the later innings. Newark was helpless before McCloskey's offerings and had no chance at all to get runs across the rubber.

The usual Monday crowd, small in number, watched the contest and had lots of fun with the visiting men on the bench, whose dispositions were pleasant because of the trend taken by the game.

Findlay scored in the first after Donaldson had been retired. Blue drew a pass, Werner was out on a fly to Long, Yockey doubled to deep center, scoring Blue. Chapman got a scratch single, Costello was hit by Daugherty and Egan went out on a fly to Long.

In the third, after one man was out, Werner was hit by Daugherty. Yockey singled and both runners advanced when Long allowed the ball to get by him. Chapman's double to the left field fence scored both men. Costello sacrificed and Egan was out on a fly to Hart.

With two down in the fourth, Donaldson singled to left and stole second. Blue's single to center field scored Donaldson. Werner was out on a fly to Roundbush.

The last run was counted in the fifth on Yockey's walk and steal. Blanchard's error and Chapman's sacrifice fly. Costello and Egan each were retired by Malloy.

Hart got Newark's just hit in the second inning after Humphreys had walked and Strawn and Blanchard were retired. An error by Werner allowed both men to advance, leaving McGovern at third. Malloy fouled to McGovern, which was as near as Newark came to scoring Roundbush got a scratch single in the third and another in the eighth, just after Long had scratched one. Both were fruitless. Humphreys scratched another in the ninth without result.

Long's big day in center field, having seven put-outs, featured the game. Score

Toledo, O., June 22.—In an exhibition game yesterday afternoon before 11,000 employees of the Willys-Overland company, the Detroit Tigers beat the New York Giants, 1 to 3. The game was featured by the hitting of Cobb and Robertson and the sensational fielding of Veatch and Doyle. Manager McGraw and Jennings used regular lineups. Cobb ran wild on the bases.

Ban Johnson and John Tener, major league presidents, were present. John N. Willys, president of the Willys-Overland company, was host for the day. He shut down the big Toledo factory and gave every employee a half-holiday with pay. The entire force with fourteen bands, formed a monster parade from factory to ball park. The event was one of the greatest industrial recreative moves ever made by an American manufacturer. Score by innings:

An Anecdote of Greeley.

A call was once made by a dozen noted artists of the Academy of Design in 1870 on Horace Greeley. Mr. Clarence Cook, then the art critic of the Tribune, had been saying things about the academy exhibition which caused the venerable chiefs of that establishment to boil with indignation. One day a committee went down to the Tribune to complain. Mr. Greeley, having listened in silence to what these gentlemen had to say, looked up from his desk, a twinkle in his eye, and said, with his peculiar nasal falsetto: "Gentlemen, I judge from your remarks that Mr. Cook's articles are widely read. They will therefore continue to be printed in the Tribune. Good morning."

MASTERY OF TRAPSHOOTING NOT DIFFICULT

By Samuel Wesley Long.

Trapshooting, like base ball, cannot be learned through a "correspondence course," nor from any other printed description. If you want to become a trapshooter you must get out on the firing line and master the game, to the extent of your ability, by actually "playing" it.

In general, trapshooting consists of shooting with a shotgun at disc-shaped targets thrown from a trap propelled with a strong spring.

An open field, preferably with the sky as a background, is the shooting grounds. The trap is located in a trap house, a low lying structure, half underground. The back, top and sides of the trap house are made of heavy timber to protect the trap boy, who places the targets in the trap. The front, of course, is open to permit the flight of the targets.

The first firing line is sixteen yards in the rear of the trap house. The pegs—stands for the shooters—five in number—are spaced ten feet apart in a circular sweep. Handicap stations, for use in handicap tournaments, are located on arcs corresponding with the 16-yard, or first firing line, and at 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23 yards back of the trap house, which is on a line with the center peg—No. 3 of all the arcs. The trap is set and sprung by a "puller" operating a lever back of the 23-yard line.

The targets are thrown a distance of fifty yards from the trap in directions controlled by the trap boy and unknown, beforehand, to the shooter. The three types of targets, deriving the designation from the direction in which they are thrown, are right-quartering, left-quartering and straightaway. The target resembles a saucer, being round and hollow. It is made of river silt and tar moulded to shape under pressure and is approximately 4 1/4 inches outside diameter, 1 1/8 inches high outside, with 3-16 inch walls.

After the shooters have taken their positions at the score, each in turn calls "Pull"—the command to the puller to spring the trap that throws the "clay pigeon."

The result of the shot is announced by the referee as "dead," "lost" or "no bird," respectively, if the target is broken, missed, or the target is not legal for various prescribed reasons. In the latter case the shooter is permitted to shoot again.

The shooters usually shoot in squads of five, firing in rotation after a certain number of shots have been fired by each contestant from his original position, the man on No. 5 peg changes to No. 1, and the other four shooters move down a peg. Number 4 goes to peg five, No. 3 to peg four, etc. After the required number of shots have been fired in this order, the shooters again move down one with the man who had moved from No. 4 to No. 5, going to No. 1 station, and so on, until each shooter has shot an equal number of shots from all five positions. This is done to equalize the conditions under which all the participants shoot.

From the foregoing one is likely to get the impression that trapshooting is exceedingly simple, but when it comes to mastering all the details of the shooter's part in the sport, it is quite as intricate and scientific as base ball or any other game. However, any one, with instructions and practice, can acquire some degree of proficiency in "busting 'em," while class shooting and the several systems of distance and added-target handicaps give the novice a chance along with the most expert.

As to the scientific phases of the sport, the shooter begins with the mechanical advantage of a gun and ammunition that will do their part if he does his. The personal equation comes in when the shooter must decide what he is going to do to stop the flight of a target that is streaking its way through the air at a speed that would dismay the swiftest bird.

Instantly the shooter must determine whether he will shoot directly at the target, ahead of it, above it, both above it and ahead of it, below it, ahead and below it, etc. His decision may be further complicated by the effect of wind on both the charge of shot and the flight of the target, and numerous other considerations.

But despite all the difficulties of becoming an expert, the way of the beginner is made pleasant and easy by the helpful advice of the members of "the old guard" of trapshooting clubs, at any of which it may be remarked, the visitor or aspirant for honors is sure of a hearty welcome, and will find guns and ammunition for the use of the uninitiated.

On the whole, trapshooting is a game of absorbing interest and griping fascination, as has been proved by its wonderful growth in popularity and the type of men to be seen at the traps finding healthful recreation in this clean, amateur sport.

When people make their feet conspicuous by wearing white stockings, it is of course on account of the shortage of dye-stuffs.

After having to settle all these tangled controversies between the European fighters, President Wilson should henceforth be very sympathetic with the lot of the baseball umpire.

When the war closes the versatile stock brokers have it all fixed up how they are going to make money. They will sell their own stocks high, on the basis of resumption of normal business, and buy other people's stocks low on the ground that the war order trade will be lost.

Backslip in Road-Building.

There exists an unsettled condition of affairs in the State Highway Department of Ohio which bodes ill for the betterment of the roads of the state. Work so well begun in 1911 by the reorganization of the department and furthered by the fixing of the road levy, and given impetus in 1913 and 1914, has all but stopped and no new contracts are being undertaken.

Not only is this true but the time has elapsed in which Ohio may claim its share of federal aid for this year secured by former highway commissioner, James W. Marker, unless federal authorities grant extension of time. Into such conditions has the department fallen that there is a well-defined rumor that Governor Willis' highway commissioner Clinton W. Cowan, expects to resign the first of September and take up the duties of the office of county surveyor to which he was elected in Hamilton county. Inasmuch as the destructive highway plank of the Republican platform was not adhered to, the blame cannot be placed altogether there. The trouble is due not to Commissioner Cowan but rather to the ruling of the attorney general and the unwisdom of the method of appropriations by the finance committee of the last legislature. The commissioner finds himself alone in the work without full knowledge of what is under way, his best aides deserting him because of the lack of salary appropriation. With the road levy and automobile license collecting making a fund approximating three million dollars, Ohio is entitled to be kept lifted from the mud. Previous administrations made a good start for better roads and showed the people of Ohio what an intelligent program meant. The backslip in the matter of road building is not being well received.

(New York World.)

The League of Peace contemplated by the movement inaugurated last week at Philadelphia by former President Taft would be an alliance of a new kind. We have had many agreements between nations, often trumpeted as in the interest of peace but their manifest purpose has been aggression or war. The League of Peace as now proposed, while doing away with hostilities between its members, would be expected to use its combined force against any power not a member that refused to submit its quarrels to arbitration.

One effect of such an arrangement, wholly aside from its moral influence, would be the partial disarming of member nations. Being allies for peace as to themselves, their armies and navies united need never be much larger than the forces of the non-member nations. If a majority of the warlike peoples of the world could be persuaded to join the league, it is not likely that those who remained outside would make much trouble.

This, of course, is the first problem. The second is quite as important. Once having enrolled most of the fighting nations in the League of Peace, would they keep the faith? That would depend altogether upon the binding force of their treaty obligations. Until public opinion and national honor make treaty-breaking impossible, Leagues of peace may find that they also rest upon nothing more formidable than a scrap of paper.

The principle involved, however, is correct and the aspiration is worthy. A success, the enterprise will divide nations as individuals are now separated into law-abiding and criminal classes. A failure, it will at least have been an intelligent effort to remove the greatest of earthly curses.

Preparation and Prevention.

(Philadelphia Record.)

Preparedness does not prevent war, says Mr. Bryan, and he proves his statement, to his own satisfaction, in the manner usually employed to prove a fallacy—namely, by presenting it as an axiom decorated with flowers of rhetoric. It would be quite as easy to prove that unpreparedness does not prevent it, and that preparedness does. A country unprepared for war will keep the peace. It has to because of its unreadiness. China recently preserved peace under great provocation from Japan; but, in order to do so, China had to yield to the Japanese demands, though these were considered most unreasonable. At the price of its independence an unarmed nation can have peace as long as it wants to.

The same international incident will serve to prove that preparedness prevents war. Japan was ready to back her demands upon China by force, and because she was prepared, Japan got what she wanted without fighting. A nation armed will not make the sacrifices of lives and treasure and public morals entailed by war if the end desired can be obtained peaceably, and these ends were attained in this case because Japan was armed. Therefore, Japan's preparedness prevented war. Now, take the third proposition, namely, that unpreparedness does not prevent war. If Japan had been unprepared China would not have yielded and the Japanese would have had to fight to secure what they wanted. Thus war would have been the result of unpreparedness.

It remains to prove the truth of the fourth proposition: Preparedness does not prevent war. Suppose China, though defenseless, had rejected the humiliating proposals made to her by armed Japan. The latter would not have permitted her preparedness to influence her against invading Manchuria, Shanghai, Peking or any other division of the Chinese empire in which special privileges were desired for the Japanese government and people. On the contrary, being provided with large and well-equipped fleets and armies, Japan might have felt at liberty to invade China and take possession not only of what she originally asked for, but of a good deal more, which her modesty would not at first permit her to demand. In such case preparedness would not have prevented war. To the four postulates now proven it would be possible to add a fifth, namely preparedness and unpreparedness neither prevent wars nor cause them.

TAKE A LOOK IF YOU HAVE TIME

The personal pride of the man with a fat stomach is marked, but it does not compare with that of the man who wears the longest whiskers in his community.

You will have noticed that the man who operates on the theory that a sucker is born every minute nearly always has plenty of money.

Spirit of the Press

Buying in America.

England is all the while increasing her purchases of clothes, horses, munitions of war. It is freely predicted that she will have to establish a war credit on this side of the Atlantic, or try to place a war loan here. She cannot long stand the drain on her gold. France is in much the same position, and her financiers have taken the bull by the horns. The French government is in the market to buy two classes of our railroad securities—Pennsylvania is and St. Paul is—and may absorb eventually a considerable amount of other bonds of the same general description. These will come to New York as a substitute for gold. If France takes what we have to sell she means to pay in our own industrial and public service securities, which is entirely fair to America.—Brooklyn Eagle.

American Diplomacy.

American diplomacy has never before stood so high in the estimation of the world as it now stands. One of the ablest members of the Diplomatic Corps in Washington recently expressed the opinion that the correspondence of the United States Government with the belligerents during this war had never been surpassed in the history of diplomacy. Although Mr. Wilson in a way is his own Secretary of State, Mr. Lansing shares in the credit of an achievement that will shine forever on the pages of American history. The appointment of Mr. Lansing to the office of Secretary of State might make no appeal to Democratic politicians, but it would make a very strong appeal to the common sense of the country. In view of the record of Mr. Bryan there is no general desire for another Secretary of State named for political reasons.—New York World.

Another Thaw Trial.

Thaw is again appearing in the newspapers, this time in a trial to see whether he is insane or not. * * * What a disgusting mess the law has made of this high-handed murderer! And still it is allowed to go on cheating the juries and discrediting the courts. The idea that this murderer should escape all these years on a plea of insanity is proof that guilt is not a question of fact, but of shrewdness and money. The law as well as Thaw has been on trial all these years.—Ohio State Journal.

A Problem.

The evolution of a torpedo-proof battleship is a consummation greatly to be desired if we are to continue to spend $15,000,000 apiece on sugarcoated doughnuts. When a submarine, costing $500,000 with a crew of twenty-five men, can send to the bottom in ten minutes a 30,000-ton battleship and 1,000 men, naval science has a task ahead to justify its past theories.—New York World.

The "Official" Picture of Miss Anne Morgan.

This is the "official" photograph of Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of the late J. Pierpont Morgan. She posed for it, and authorized its distribution among the newspapers of the country during the life time of her father, Miss Morgan, who is about 45 years of age did not take kindly to newspaper photographers. Several of them who photographed her in public places had trouble about it. In one case well known, she called on a policeman, who being aided by the Morgan millions, exercised his influence and threats to compel a weak photographer to destroy a plate. This was a fine, it has been said, to the influence of the elder Morgan. He posed as being above newspapers and particularly their photographers. He was seldom taken with his consent; nor did it please him to have other members of the family photographed. However, after her father's death Miss Morgan was often photographed.

She has just opened a camp for working girls in Sterling Forest, Greenwood Lake, N. J. Twenty of the members of her Vacation Fund Club are now encamped in the beautiful surroundings, but the full quota is expected within a few days to take advantage of lessons in rowing, swimming, woodcraft, fishing and natural studies and in enjoying the dancing in the pavilion.

MAKING DAINTY FROCKS.

Many beautiful and dainty frocks are being manufactured by the busy fingers of the sewing class at the W. H. Mazer company. Beautiful materials become elaborate and attractive gowns, possessing all the little touches affected by the chic modiste, and these are made by inexperienced sewers.

The gowns are the work of the members of the class in sewing which is being conducted by Miss Loretta V. Reilly, representing the Butterick Pattern company of New York. Already a large number has enrolled and two days more remain for enrollment and ten days for the work.

The sewing is done in the room prepared in the basement of the Mazer store, and the course consists of six lessons for $3.00. These lessons are divided to develop the principal parts of the construction of the gown. First the student, is taught to take measurements, and then after the patterns are cut, this is done instead of waiting for the alterations of the material after it is cut, which often causes waste of material. The gowns are fitted under the direction of Miss Reilly, and the greater part of the sewing is done at home under her instructions. The lessons are an hour and half in length and are given from 9 o'clock until 5:30 o'clock.

The first lessons were given June 2 and already 20 very handsome gowns have been made, and by amateurs. In order to secure the lessons any one may enroll in the next two days, and the full course of instruction can be secured. The fee for the instruction is less than any modiste would charge for the making of the gowns, and the student has gained a knowledge of dressmaking which is most practical.

Two boys, aged about seventeen, were brought into the probate court this afternoon to be questioned by Juvenile Judge Robbins Thayer on suspicion of knowing something regarding the disposition of goods stolen from the Swartz grocery in Maple avenue a couple of months ago. At that time about $20 worth of silk hose was missing, together with several hams, several sides of bacon, a number of pen knives and a pair of scissors.

How Famous Actresses Banish Superfluous Hair

Betty Lorraine, the popular actress who won fame in "The Little Parisienne" and other comedies, writes: "Theatrical women are now using a remarkable prescription that acts like magic in curing all trace of unsightly hair growth. It is Mrs. Osgood's Wonder. Unlike the electric needle, it can be used with perfect safety. Unlike evil-smelling depilatories, it doesn't burn the skin. I used it first over a year ago and have not had a trace of superfluous hair since."

CRITICISM

OF LEADING STATESMEN OF GERMANY ON DIPLOMATIC AND WAR MEASURES

Appeared in One Berlin Newspaper Which is Bitterly Resented by Another.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Berlin, Via London, June 22.—The Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung today published the following:

"In the Deutsche Tages Zeitung almost daily for some time an impassioned campaign has been carried on in which, more or less frankly, the eyes of readers are to be opened to certain dangers confronting the empire because of the feeble stand of the government in the matter of differences with America regarding submarine warfare.

"On one side it is made to appear as if official circles for the sake of peace with America, were considering giving up superiority in the submarine weapon. On the other side one does not shrink from the folly of the assertion that increasing the number of our enemies by the United States would be a matter of utter unimportance. In Monday's issue the Deutsche Tages Zeitung rises to scarcely conceal ridicule of the legal standpoint set forth in the German notes to America and to a personal attack on leading statesmen."

The men who bear the responsibility and whose duty it is to weigh dangers and advantages against each other are not affected by public criticism. A campaign of this kind against our statesmen is calculated to render difficult for the Imperial government its task, not only of preserving the effectiveness of our weapons, but also of preventing injurious reactions on the general political situation. We trust that the propaganda will come to an end."

WOMEN WATCH THE CLOCK.

In our stores and factories for that blessed hour when the day's work ends. The reason is readily seen, as the nature of their duties too often drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of organic troubles peculiar to women, causing backache, headaches, nervousness and irritability. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a simple remedy, made from roots and herbs, may be relied upon to overcome these troubles.

Council Passes Legislation
To Pave Hoover Street After Spirited Debate Last Night

After having once defeated the proposition to prepare plans for the paving of Hoover street, council, Monday night, reconsidered the action, upon motion of Councilman Rexroth, and when the new vote was taken there was but one opposing vote that of Councilman Knauber, who remained firm in his opposition to the improvement.

A complication in the matter of petitions and remonstrances signed by residents on the street, was responsible for the original defeat of the resolution which was offered by Councilman Adams.

The petition asking for the pavement was circulated and signed by a majority of the property-owners. A remonstrance circulated later and sent to council, also had a majority of the frontage represented. It was charged that a large number of those who signed the original petition also signed the remonstrance.

Before this was made thoroughly clear to the members of council the vote was taken and Messrs. Baker, Seward and Knauber opposed the measure. When the question was reopened by adopting the motion of Mr. Rexroth, the petitions and remonstrances were read from the files and the figures placed before the council. The new vote gave those favoring the proposition a victory.

Hoover street is regarded as an important thoroughfare, particularly as a short route from the North Fourth street district to the Granville hill district. All winter and spring the street has been almost impassable because of the mud-holes. The street committee in its investigation found plenty of need for the improvement.

The Hoover street problem was one of a number which council wrestled with. Residents in Sixth street want the thoroughfare improved and indicated that they may ask permission to contract of the work themselves, having it done under the supervision of the service department. The property-owners have not reached an agreement as to the materials to be used, but it was stated at the meeting Monday night that such agreement probably would be reached soon. In view of the city's victory in the lawsuit for the title of the old cemetery tract, which fronts on Sixth street, it was the opinion of council that that portion of the street lying between Main and Church streets should be included in the improvement legislation. After much discussion this strip finally was included.

It was during the discussion of the Sixth street matter that Councilman Payne and Councilman Seward urged the officials and property-owners to seriously consider other materials than brick. The mixed method of macadam was recommended. It was stated that side streets in other cities, paved with this material ten and fifteen years ago, were still in good condition, and that there had been no expense for repairs during that period. It is possible that this material may be used on Sixth street.

The Linden avenue paving project was defeated when an effort was made to pass the resolution to prepare plans. There is no water in the street and no sewer. Councilman Keyes, from that ward, said that he understood that water main would soon be put in and that when the sewer arose for a sewer it would be put in the alley between Linden avenue and Sixteenth street, serving property on both streets. Council members were opposed to proceeding with the paving project at least until the water main was installed.

Summer temperature prompted many of the councilmen to shed their coats when they took their seats after 8 o'clock. It was the first meeting night when the chamber was uncomfortably warm. All members were present when roll was called and in addition, a number of other city officials and citizens were present.

The street committee recommended that ward councilmen cause petitions to be circulated where retreating streets is desired; sewer and paving were recommended for First street, paving of Tenth street was recommended; paving of Sixth street from Church to Granville was recommended; grading of Thirteenth street was recommended. The service committee reported that residents desiring oil on streets must secure petitions from property owners amounting on 5000 square yards of street before the work can be done.

Solicitor Norpell reported the finding of the supreme court in the matter of the litigation regarding the Sixth street cemetery tract.

Engineer Wells reported that the estimated cost of the Ninth street sewer was $685.50.

Council Clerk Woodward reported that certain notices for street improvements had been served on property owners.

A petition from R. F. Dush and others asked that the Tenth street improvement be extended to Hoover street. I. C. Houser and one other, owning 89 feet on Hoover street, protested against the paving of Hoover street.

Mrs. Francis Wolford and thirteen others residing between Fifth and Sixth street petitioned for a sanitary sewer.

W. H. Hickman and three others living in Sixth street protested against asphaltum as paving material and asked that brick be used.

Hugh B. DeBord presented a bill for $15 for repairs to a sewer at his home which he claimed was made necessary by poor work when the sewer was installed.

The Trades and Labor Assembly asked permission to use part of the court house park for concessions on labor day. It was referred to the park committee.

Ray Horchler, assistant in the public service department, petitioned council to provide funds for payment of his wages, making him a regular employee of the department. It was referred to the finance committee.

D. B. Bell and nine others petitioned for asphalt paving in Sixth street, between Church and Granville streets. It was referred to the street committee.

An ordinance by Mr. Payne amending ordinance 2171, providing for a park attendant, salary $50 per month, eight months in the year was passed on suspension of rules.

An ordinance by Mr. Baker authorizing the Standard Oil company to place a gasoline tank, capacity, 575 gallons, under the sidewalk in front of 56 West Main street.

An ordinance by Mr. Payne, to issue notes to borrow $12,336 for Gay, Buena Vista and Chestnut streets improvement was passed on suspension of rules.

An ordinance by Mr. Adams determining to proceed with the improvement of Chestnut street by construction of a sewer, was passed on suspension of rules.

An ordinance by Mr. Payne determining to proceed with the pavement of Gay street was passed on suspension of rules.

An ordinance by Mr. Ashbrook to grant permission to arcade an alley was on its third reading. As the motion is still in the hands of a committee no action was taken on the bill.

A resolution to construct a sidewalk at the approaches of the new South Second street bridge was adopted.

A resolution by Mr. Adams to prepare plans for curbing and paving Sixth street from Church to Granville was adopted. A motion was carried to amend the resolution to pave the street from Main street to Granville, which would include the strip on which the Sixth street cemetery tract abuts.

A resolution by Mr. Ashbrook to prepare plans for sewer and paving First street, was adopted.

A resolution by Mr. Adams authorizing the grading of Twelfth street from Church to Locust street was adopted.

A resolution by Mr. Keyes directing the service director to repair the Hollar ditch (sewer) was adopted on suspension of rules.

A resolution by Mr. Adams authorizing the service director to grade Broad street, was adopted.

A resolution by Mr. Adams to grade Brennan street, and Eddy street was adopted.

A resolution by Mr. Adams directing the service director to grade an alley in North Eleventh street, was adopted.

A resolution by Mr. Ashbrook to construct a sidewalk in East Locust street was adopted.

A resolution declaring it necessary to improve Ninth street by construction of a sewer, was adopted on suspension of rules.

A resolution by Mr. Rexroth to improve Kibler avenue by paving was adopted on suspension of rules.

A resolution by Mr. Keyes, to pave Linden avenue, was on its second reading. A motion to suspend rules was lost by a vote of 6 to 3.

Mr. Adams' resolution to improve Hoover street, was on its third reading. When the matter was put to a vote Messrs. Knauber, Baker and Seward voted no, and the motion to adopt was lost. The matter was discussed further and Mr. Rexroth moved to reconsider the vote. His motion was carried. Mr. Rexroth asked for the report of the city engineer in which council was informed regarding the foot frontage on the petition and remonstrance. The report was dug from the files. It showed that the original petition had a majority of 260 feet front, while the remonstrance had a majority of 14 feet front. A new vote was taken and Mr. Knauber was the only member to stick to his original vote. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 8 to 1.

A motion to allow the Masons to use the council chamber next Thursday, was adopted.

Solicitor Norpell reported that both railroad companies have written that they were willing to meet with Newark city officials here on June 24 or 25. The clerk was asked to notify members of council when the meeting was to be held.

The special committee to investigate the advisability of locating a fire station in South Newark, asked for further time.

Familiar Situation.

If Lord Kitchener and Sir John French are on bad terms, the situation is one with which we are quite familiar. Secretary Stanton never made a complimentary reference to General Grant after the period of Fort Donelson, and at the grand review in Washington Sherman refused to shake hands with him. Several years after the war Sherrin moved his headquarters to St. Louis to escape the proximity of another Secretary of War. General Miles was in a continuous quarrel with the Secretary of War during the latter part of the time he was in command of the army. The relations between General Winfield Scott and Secretary Jefferson Davis were very similar. — Philadelphia Record.

MODERATELY GOOD.

A load of virtue will never hurt you, if modestly it's borne; the saintly relic who's too much for week days makes us mortals. The gloomy moral of a who by a chortle or joke is deeply vexed, the turgid person who's still discoursing the precept and the text, is dull and dreary. In a kais us warty, we hate to see him come; oh, come so pious, please don't come, wish us your creed is too blamed hum! The saint who mumbles, when some one stumbles, "That man, forever lost," is but a fellow with streak of yellow, his words are all a frost. Not what we're saying, as we're straving down this tinhorn globe, not words or phrases, though loud as blazes, will gain us help and joy. It's what we're doing while we're pursuing our course with other skits, that will be counted when we have mounted the ladder to the Gates. A drink of water to tramps who totter with weakness in the sun will help us better than text and letter of sermons by the ton. So let such action give satisfaction, let words be few and wise, and, after dying, we'll all go singing and whooping through the sky.

Billy Sunday's Camp.

(New York World.)

The former secretary of Billy Sunday, who charges the revivalist with lack of originality in his sermons, will not create much of a sensation. Preachers, like orators in general, have always been privileged to help themselves. There are no quotation marks for the spoken word, and many a sermon in this country, as among the tox-hung parsons in England, has been prepared by hack writers who were poorly paid.

A discourse that is worth uttering at all is worth repeating. Not long ago a statesman in Belgium was accused of making the same speech twice. His reply was that he had made the same speech once a year for 17 years and no one had ever noted the repetition before. Some of our most successful preachers are adepts in quoting Scripture. A Southern clergyman officiating at a funeral recited as it might be original the intention chapter of First Corinthians. When he was highly complimented for his eloquence he had to tell a here he got it.

We do not know that Mr. Sunday borrows his exhortations from Moody, Sam Jones, C. F. Smith and others, as is alleged, but it is obvious that many of his merry jests are older than Joe Miller's joke-book. Entertainers scrupulously preserve for future use anecdotes and witty sayings, and not one of them ever takes the trouble when using them to acknowledge their authorship.

Men who talk all the time must put the whole world under contribution. Carlyle held that orators could not tell the truth, for their desire to please their hearers made them lie in spite of themselves. It is an old theory of law that a man who will lie will steal. Therefore, valuable orators are almost certain to appropriate other men's goods, although they do not call it theft. One such person, caught in the act, said he was guilty only of "unconscious cerebration."

Use Nothing for Corns But GETS-IT.

GETS-IT—That's It.

Note how the name is spelled, G-E-T-S-I-T, and say no to any thing offered you with a name made up to sound like "GETS-IT." There is only one "GETS-IT." Get it and nothing else.

All good druggists know the wonderful results of "GETS-IT," the world's greatest corn cure. They wouldn't try to sell you something else. Every drug store in the land sells "GETS-IT," the first and only corn-cure ever known that removes corns and every corn or callus without pain, without thick bandages, toe harnesses, corn-swelling salves, irritating ointments. Applied in a few seconds. The corn loosens, your corn agony ends and quickly the corn leaves. The itching, the pains that dart to your heart, the irritation of having to wear shoes over screaming corns, the danger of blood poison from making them bleed by using knives, razors and scissors—are gone at last! "GETS-IT" is the new, the sure, simple, painless way. Don't let anybody argue you out of it—get "GETS-IT." Avoid useless substitutes everywhere. 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. ABOUT RAISING THE LUSITANIA

At this writing the "Lusitania" is supposed to rest on a fairly hard bottom in from 500 to 100 feet of water. As a salvage prize, the ship and some of its cargo are worth recovering if they can be raised within a reasonable length of time. So far as we can learn, no intention to attempt recovery of the ship has been announced and war conditions, of course, render any possible attempt unusually difficult.

And yet it cannot be finally said such a raising is absolutely impossible, although the engineers may estimate the cost at a figure which makes the effort impracticable. Ship and cargo would represent probably a weight of say, 40,000 tons. No such large vessel has ever been raised even from less depths. Hence, the problem presents difficulties which have never been solved in actual practice.

That we have no precedent, however, does not in itself establish an impossibility. Given apparatus of sufficient size and strength, theoretically, or course it could be accomplished. Whether or not it would pay is another matter.

The large quantity, however, is one which cannot fail to interest engineers and laymen alike.

Much would doubtless depend on the ability of divers to descend to a depth which must establish new records of at least 100 feet, and to perform any useful work after getting down. Considerable advance has been made of late in diving work, and a recent invention consisting of a hollow metal sphere, now under construction, claims ability to put two men down 1,000 feet, with control of the vehicle to permit the occupants making it about, or anchoring it to a ship's side. Through windows the divers could observe the work of laying cables or cables and means of telephones direct the work of those on the surface. Instead of working in the dark as formerly the men above would practically observe their own work through the eyes of the divers. In this way not only greatly facilitating operations, but making the effort effective where otherwise it might be largely experimental.

It has been suggested that an effort of this nature would probably consist in raising the ship a few feet and dragging it inshore until it is on a bottom; then raising and towing it forward again, until it is beached shallow water where ordinary divers could work for several hours at a time.—H. H. Windsor in the July Popular Mechanics Magazine.

The milk diet is the best flesh producer I know of. The day you commence the diet drink a couple of glasses of hot water upon arising, and 15 minutes later . . . a half a dozen prunes which have soaked all night in a tumbler of . . . water. Also drink the prune . . . glass and a half of milk and there . . . every hour until 4 or 5 in the . . . afternoon. Eat your evening meal as usual letting it consist of plainly cooked foods.

Do not drink the milk hurriedly, but remember it is just as much a food as breakfast and . . . the same amount of chewing . . . Swish the milk around in the mouth before swallowing, as in this way it is almost entirely digested before it reaches the stomach. While on this diet be sure that the eliminatory organs function properly.

Do not take the milk too cold, but let it stand until the chill is off and it is pleasant to take. Also do not take the milk too close to bedtime. Rather get up a little earlier in the morning so you can commence taking the milk earlier. The first week take three or three and one-half quarts of milk, the second week five quarts, and the third and succeeding weeks at least six quarts.

For the first week take two glasses of hot water an hour before retiring. The second week drink a glass and a half of milk every hour during the day. Continue the hot water and prunes as directed for the first week, but omit the evening meal this week, and the weeks following. The third week take two glasses of milk every hour during the day and continue the hot water and prunes.

GENUINE PRESCRIPTION FOR ALL RHEUMATISM

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Back, Says T. J. Evans.

Rheuma—that is the name of the scientific prescription that is putting old rheumatism out of business.

Rheuma cures by driving the uric acid from the blood. It also acts directly on the kidneys and is better for them than most so-called kidney cures.

Porter Smith, Dobbin, W. Va., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism for about 20 years. The disease had become chronic. I began taking Rheuma with little faith in its virtues, but was better from the first day I began its use, and at this time have no more pains."

T. J. Evans and all druggists sell Rheuma, and no rheumatic sufferer can afford not to use it. 50 cents a bottle. Your money back if not satisfied.

The Best Tenants.

"Are you a chess player?" a landlord asked a prospective tenant. "I much prefer to have my houses occupied by chess players."

"No I am not a chess player, and I can't account for such a singular preference," replied the would-be tenant.

"It is simple enough," said the landlord. "Chess players move so seldom, and rarely without great deliberation."—Kansas City Star.

Why this man bought a Remington Junior Typewriter

"I have been investigating several of the recent makes of machines, seeking for one of simple construction for ordinary manuscript and letter writing. I was nearly ready to buy a machine of another make when I just happened to see for the first time the Remington Junior, and found it to be everything I wanted; and that was a typewriter built simpler and not incumbered with fixtures not needed for writing ordinary manuscript or letters."

The man who wrote this is the postmaster of a small Southern town. He is only one of thousands who have recently bought a Remington Junior. But his reasons apply to everybody—they apply to YOU.

The Remington Junior is our latest product and the latest idea in typewriting. It is strictly a high-grade machine.

It has the Remington Name, the Remington Guarantee, the Remington Quality—everything Remington except weight and bulk.

"A Simplified Remington" describes it exactly.

TO HAVE PERFECT SKIN

THROUGHOUT THE SUMMER

These days the face needs special care and attention. Flying dust and dirt, the heating sun, are severe on any skin. Their despoiling effects are best overcome by the application of pure mercolized wax. This keeps skin and pores in a cleanly condition, the complexion beautifully white and spotless. Discolored, cracked and roughened cuticle are actually absorbed by it. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drugstore, is sufficient to completely renovate a soiled complexion. It is used like cold cream, allowed to remain on over night, and washed off in the morning.

As the skin tends to expand in warm weather, causing wrinkles to form, a good astringent lotion should be used. Dissolve 1 oz. powdered salicylic in 1/2 pt. witch hazel. Bathe the face in this during the heat of the day or before going out for theatre or social affair. It is a remarkable skin tightening and wrinkle eraser.

All Newark Merchants Notice.

Charles J. Crockett, representing the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce is in town today having come by invitation to address the local merchants at the Trust building, second floor, this evening. Mr. Crockett will discuss the problems of the Newark merchants and will have some things to say that are well worth hearing. There will be no admission charge, no solicitation of any kind. Every merchant in town is invited to attend the meeting tonight.

Municipal Granaries.

For more than two centuries the authorities of London maintained municipal granaries, the first one having been established by Sir Stephen Brown, lord mayor, in 1433. By means of these city granaries the authorities held the "corn badgers" in check and regulated not only the price of corn, but of bread. The great fire in London destroyed the last of these granaries and also the public mills and ovens in which the city's grain was ground and baked, and the system was not thereafter introduced, chiefly because the general laws against grain speculators were sufficient to restrain undue speculation. Corn markets were held, however, as late as the beginning of the eighteenth century at Bear quay, in Thames street, London, while Queenhithe was the chief market for flour and meal, and later the metropolitan trade centered in the world famous Corn Exchange in Mark lane. — New York Times.

Wild Zebras.

The zebra when wild is a ferocious animal, and an unwary hunter is likely to suffer from its teeth and hoofs. The author of "Kloof and Karroo" says that a Boer in Cape Colony had once forced a zebra to the brink of a precipice, when the desperate creature turned upon him, attacked him with its teeth and actually tore one of his feet from the leg. Another author writes of a soldier who mounted a half domesticated zebra. The creature, after making the most furious attempts to get rid of its rider, plunged over a steep bank into the river and threw the soldier as it emerged. While the man lay half stunned upon the ground the zebra quietly walked up to him and bit off one of his ears.

NEWARK IS TO HAVE SPLENDID CHAUTAUQUA

The Newark Chautauqua this year will again be held under the auspices of the Federated Women's clubs in the Sixth street park. The Redpath Lyceum Bureau will furnish the entertainments. A representative of the bureau was in the city a short time ago and met with the committee having the Chautauqua in charge and he assured them that the attractions this year will be fully 20 per cent better than last year.

The first entertainment will be on Friday, July 30, Alton Packard, cartoonist and lecturer. Other features included in the program are the Ben Greet Players, Dr. F. W. Gansaulis, famous divine of Chicago, who carries his own special music for his lecture, Strickland W. Gilliam, famous lecturer and humorist, Furello's band and John B. Ratto, the impersonator.

Tickets will be placed on sale about 30 days before the opening number. Fifteen hundred tickets are guaranteed the lyceum bureau but it is the hope of the committee of arrangements to sell at least 2000 and in all probability that amount will be disposed of, for the attractions which will be brought to this city are all of a high standard.

SUMMERLAND CHAUTAUQUA

OPENS MONDAY, AUG. 2.

The Chautauqua at Summerland Beach opens Aug. 2, and continues until Aug. 12. A good, strong program has been secured and no doubt the Chautauqua will be liberally patronized. It is given under the auspices of the Ohio Baptist association.

The Summerland Beach assembly and training school will also be in session from Aug. 2 to 12. Those expecting to attend should make reservations early. Full announcement regarding the Chautauqua attractions and the school will be made at a later date.

Cold Doesn't Always Contract.

There are many ways of demonstrating the fallacy of the assertion that "heat expands, cold contracts." When water (other liquids as well) freezes to ice it increases in bulk. Sometimes it is said, however, that the volume of the sum of the ice crystals alone is no greater than that of the original liquid, but that the crystals of ice do not fit in well together and leave spaces between them which account for the apparent increase in volume.

Molten metals, as a rule, contract upon solidification, which is nothing but freezing. Some alloys, on the other hand, expand when solidified. Type metal, which is composed chiefly of lead and antimony, is such an alloy.

This propensity is of particular advantage in this case because it causes the metal in solidifying to fill up every tiny corner and hair space in the matrix.—New York World.

Profitable Change.

A well known conjurer one day visited a Scotch village. After performing many astonishing tricks he asked for a halfpenny, which a collier lent him. The conjurer then said he would turn it into a sovereign. He did so, as the people thought, and handed it around for them to see. When

DEATH COMES TO F. KOCHENDORFER, PIONEER EDITOR

The friends of Mr. Frederick Kochendorfer were grievously surprised and pained last evening when the news of that gentleman's dissolution passed about the city. Mr. Kochendorfer was thought to be considerably improved from his recent critical illness, and hopes were entertained for his recovery, but a sudden sinking soon carried the weakened spirit to eternal rest. No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral.

Frederick Kochendorfer was born in Bonfeld, Wurtemberg, Germany, in 1831. He came to America in 1852, and was married to Margarette Madary, in 1855. The children are as follows, all of whom were present during the last illness except the son residing in Glendora, Calif., Chas. F. Kochendorfer, Miss Fannie Kochendorfer, Mrs. Roe Emerson and Mrs. Mary K. Bagges. Two grandsons also survive, Fred S. Kochendorfer and Sherman J. Bagges. He will be sadly missed by his children and grandchildren, by his friends and neighbors, but he will not be missed by the angels of heaven.

Mr. Kochendorfer was for thirty-three years editor of the German Express.

SURGERY

(Continued from Page 1.) ciation's experts for endorsement. The Council of Pharmacy and Chemistry now had in its laboratories three chemists who give their whole time to testing such medicine, and the work had culminated in the issue of a book entitled, "Useful Drugs," which a number of the best schools now use as a textbook.

"It remains," he said, "for the profession to set its ban on all proprietary medicines, if the only information concerning them comes from those who manufacture and sell them."

A point on which Dr. Redman laid great stress was secondary education leading to the medical profession. The reforms which the association had fought for in medical schools had been so far brought about that the standard required was now as high as it should be for all of the schools of the entire country.

"An irreducible minimum has been reached," he said, "and it should be honestly enforced—that is, as soon as it can be. There is, of course, no limit to the maximum that any highly endowed and exceptionally circumstanced institution may adopt for itself."

He said that the ranks of the medical schools had been so thinned that a third of the schools were now hors de combat, and it was expedient to mark time for a while "and give those institutions which have approached the firing line a double-quick speed a chance to catch their breath."

But the problem of secondary education for the medical man he thought was handicapped by too high a cultural standard. Although a course in biology, chemistry and physics was agreed upon as a pre-requisite to the study of medicine, the subjects were not taught satisfactorily in the high schools and colleges generally.

"Therefore, for the present, at least, it must be taught largely by the medical schools, or there must be, as has been suggested by distinguished educators, a re-arrangement of the curricula of high schools, so that they will embrace a course in the sciences which will be acceptable to medical schools. This, we believe, is the very best solution of the problem."

William Penn's Measurements.

The height of the statue of William Penn on Philadelphia city hall is thirty-seven feet, and it weighs 52,400 pounds. It was cast in Philadelphia in forty-seven pieces and so skillfully joined that the most careful inspection fails to detect the junctures. It was placed in position in sections. The hat is 3 feet in diameter; rim, 23 feet in circumference; nose, 13 inches long; eyes, 12 inches long and 4 inches wide; mouth from corner to corner, 1 foot; face from hat to chin, 3 feet 3 inches; hair, 4 feet long; shoulders, 25 feet in circumference and 15 feet in diameter; waist, 24 feet in circumference and 8 feet 9 inches in diameter and 4 feet long; fingers, 2 feet 6 inches in diameter; hands, 6 feet 9 inches in circumference, 3 feet in diameter and 4 feet long; fingers, 2 feet 6 inches long; finger nails, 3 inches long, less from ankle to knee, 10 feet; ankle, 5 feet in circumference; calf of leg, 8 feet 8 inches in circumference; foot, 22 inches wide, 5 feet 4 inches long.—Philadelphia Press.

Getting Away From Land.

The question has been asked, Is it possible to sail 1,000 miles from land? This can be done at several points. By leaving San Francisco and sailing northward into the north Pacific a spot is reached where there is no land, not even an islet, for 1,000 miles in any direction. So, too, sailing from the southern point of Kamchatka southwestward ships reach a point equally distant from land of any kind, the nearest to the north being the Aleutian Islands and to the south the outlying members of the Hawaiian group. In the southern Indian ocean it is possible to sail 1,000 miles out from the southern points of Australia and New Zealand and still be as far from any other land, and the same may be done in a westerly direction from Cape Horn. Indeed, from this point a much longer distance might be reached, for the southern Pacific between the Horn and New Zealand covers a space of 80 degrees of longitude and 40 of latitude of absolutely unbroken sea, making its central point over 1,200 miles from anywhere.

CALMNESS

URGED UPON RUSSIAN POPULATION DURING RECEIPTION OF BAD NEWS

General Staff Gives Assurance That Wild Rumors in Petrograd are Unfounded.

(Associated Press Telegram)

London, June 22.—Discussing the reception in Petrograd of the bad news from the Galician front, the Daily Mail correspondent in the Russian capital says:

"An appeal to the country to maintain calmness, signed by the Russian General Staff, is posted in public places throughout the city, giving assurance that the whole truth is told in official communications and that wild rumors which are being circulated in Petrograd are unfounded."

"Military men view the situation without alarm, although admitting it may be some time before Russia again is able to resume the vigorous offensive. They assert that Russia has borne for 10 months the chief burden of war, suffering the greatest losses and materially improving the situation in the west."

"While she is reforming for a renewal of the battle Russia looks to the allies to carry the war forward and give Germany no rest. The situation as regards ammunition is expected to improve daily."

TRACTION ENGINE THROUGH AN EDEN TOWNSHIP BRIDGE

Employees were engaged in moving the engine of the Stickler sawmill yesterday when it went through the Oatman bridge on the Purdy road in Eden township. Fortunately neither of the two men on the engine was injured.

The engine had almost crossed the bridge, in fact the front wheels were upon the last plank, when the structure gave way and went with a crash down into the small stream, but it was only a distance of six feet. The entire bridge snapped in the middle, breaking every joist. The front wheels on the engine rested on the bank while the hind part of the engine was in the creek.

Late yesterday afternoon County Commissioners Ben. B. Jones, Jos. H. Orr and Frank R. Dumm drove to the scene of the accident and inspected the damaged bridge. It was completely demolished and there will be no chance to save any part of the timbers, it requiring a new structure to replace the old one. The commissioners stated that it was indeed fortunate that no one was injured.

GENERAL ATTACK ON THE STRAITS SEEMS IMMINENT

Paris, June 22.—Although operations on the Gallipoli peninsula have assumed of late the aspect of siege warfare, local attacks continue, says a Havas dispatch from Athens, dated Monday. Fighting was particularly intensive last Wednesday when the allies repulsed a Turkish attack and took 700 prisoners.

The allied trenches at the southern extremity of the peninsula, the dispatch states, are four miles from Seddul Bahr and form a square near Avi Burnu.

Great activity has been noted in the allied fleet for the past few days, leading to the belief that a general attack on the straits is imminent.

GEORGIA'S

The crowd appeared to be entirely leaderless and was quick to switch from apparent danger to humor, smiles of all sorts were made at the soldiers until someone started to sing, "I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier" and with shouts of laughter the entire throng joined in the chorus. The crowd, which finally was dispersed by the soldiers left with parting shouts of ridicule at the militiamen. It was a tired throng that trudged its way back to Atlanta.

The friends of Governor Slaton were much concerned as to his safety for a time, but they declared today they believed the danger had been passed. It is likely, however, that the governor will remain in seclusion until he is called on to make his farewell address to the Georgia legislature on Saturday.

Word received from the prison farm at Milledgeville today was that Frank was not yet in physical condition to take up active work. His long confinement and the strain of the past few days of uncertainty taken in conjunction with the mid-night ride by train and automobile to Milledgeville, seemed to have completely unnerved the man who had shown a remarkable stoicism up to this time.

(Associated Press Telegram) Atlanta, Ga., June 22.—Two battalions of national guard militia, and the governor's horse guard troops, under the personal command of Adjutant General Nash, early today were patrolling the country estate of Governor Slaton, near here. The troops had been called out after a crowd of several hundred men and boys had marched there late last night, and made a demonstration in protest against the commutation of Leo M. Frank's death sentence to life imprisonment.

The crowd was quickly dispersed by the soldiers after the governor had declared the zone within half a mile of his home under martial law. When first ordered to leader, some of the demonstrators called to the soldiers to "shoot," accompanying their retort with a desultory bombardment of the troops with missiles. Two officers and a private were slightly hurt. No shots were fired, the soldiers advancing with fixed bayonets. No civilians were injured.

The appearance of the crowd followed several street-corner gatherings in the center of the city. At first only a few were started for the Slaton estate, but the number increased as the march of four miles continued. Governor Slaton was surrounded by a few personal friends, who previously had been deputized by Sheriff Mangum at the governor's residence. Three battalions of militia had been assembled at the armory early in the night in preparation for any eventuality. Just before midnight orders came to Major Carton to move his detachment to the governor's home and the soldiers were hurried away in automobiles.

MANSFIELD

"In Ohio and all over the world we see the withered hand. People have lost power; power to work, to achieve, to use their resources. There are 1100 young people in our intermediate prison. They have lost power. As far as possible they must be brought back to their normal effective selves. The Sunday school must bring these defectives to the house of worship and study."

Dr. Franklin McElfresh of the Methodist board of Sunday schools of Chicago, addressing a business men's meeting at noon, said:

"The big tasks for the church can be handled only by big men and by trained men. A group of religious men who never expect to do anything but talk will be pale and bloodless, but as men get down to business and take the church seriously, they gain spiritual muscle. The church must challenge men to think and to think problems through. The time has come for the church to have a voice in matters of health and poverty, vice, playgrounds, schools, wages and all else that is close to the heart of the family."

Memorial Hall was crowded to its capacity almost with the opening of the second service at 9 a. m. led by the noted singers E. O. Excell and Prof. Roger of Chicago. Sectional meetings were to be held this afternoon with the subject of temperance and state wide prohibition featuring these meetings.

Judge Alexander Boxwell, of Franklin, was one of the speakers on educational topics. Rev. D. C. Yoder, Wilfred McLean and Rev. C. L. Fisk, of Cleveland and Wilson A. Holmes of Granville discussed missionary work.
